

Welcome

Seva Ranch is a place where you can live in safety and security, where you can be yourself without fear. This is not a place of judgment; it is a place of healing and growth.

Our hope is that you feel free here, that you will connect with people as your family, and that you will grow to realize that you are NOT anyone's possession. You are a unique, beautiful and meaningful human being with rights and dreams, and you are worthy of respect and love.

Beyond your safety, you are here to heal, to share when you wish, to reach out when you need, to realize that most people do not wish you harm, to discover a vast and glorious world beyond what you know, to learn and be educated, and to collect the tools you need to go out and build a life for yourself that is peaceful, joyful, fulfilling and loving.

All we ask in return are three things. That you:

- * follow the rules,*
- * accept our gifts - for you are worthy of them, and*
- * do your best to help yourself and to help those around you – in other words, make the most of your time here.*

With full hearts and much love, we welcome you and are very glad you are here.
